this 1979 adaptation of Hardy's Tess of the D'Urbervilles. Handsome, evocative, (long at 170min.) and engrossing. Natassia Kinski plays the strong willed girl from a poor family whose fortunes rise and fall when she is foisted onto polite society. It won Oscars for cinematography, art direction, and costumes. Here's a flat-out Hollywood suspense/adventure - big stars, Meryl Streep and Kevin Bacon. Hey, sometimes we just wanna have fun! A woman takes her young son and nearly estranged husband on a whitewater raft ride that becomes another sort of adventure altogether. Pg13 some violence **from Yo Video's fabulous DVD copy** ****with English subtitles****

An unusual love story gorgeously filmed in Rome by Bernardo Bertolucci. "A breathtaking film rich in passion, desire, and intrigue". All true. A hot tip from MM's wayward film critic, Daniel. Pg13

and another great doc -tba

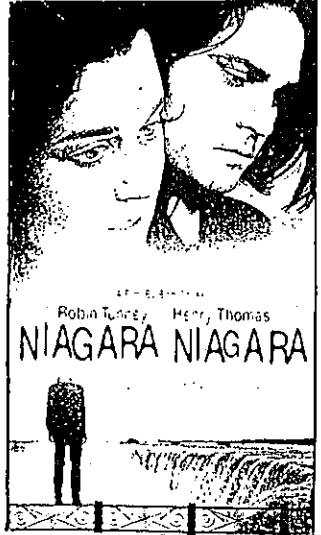

I'm not a fight fan but, for me, this was the hit of last year's Victoria Independent Film Festival (watch for that fest this year Feb. 4-10) We're screening it with California film maker Laura Plotkin's blessings. It's an intimate portrait of a feisty woman, Gina "Boom Boom" Guidi, as she trains and grows both professionally and personally. She tackles not only her opponents in the ring but cultural norms and gender identity issues. This one stands with Raging Bull as one of the great insights for novices into the boxing world. Pg13

MONDAY FEB. 14 6:30

For Valentine's Day I really liked this film. Call me a romantic but it's good to see love's still possible (though problematic) for those even older than Leonardo DiCaprio. Clint Eastwood directed and stars with Meryl Streep Pg13

"A couple of quirky teenagers hit the road on the kind of misguided quest that can only lead to danger!" says the box. Yes, it's a road movie of sorts, but what stands out is Robin Tunney's extraordinary portrayal of a person with Tourette's Syndrome. We will have a discussion to elaborate on Tourette's. Some nudity and violence R
