JOURNEY TO KAPASSENI

Documents the efforts of a Victoria refugee couple, Joseph and Perpetua Alfazema to raise money to build a school and a community well in Joseph's childhood village of Kapasseni in Mozambique. It's a miraculous story of ordinary people (both work in custodial service in the Victoria hospital system) achieving world changing results by pursuing a dream. The Alfazema's Mozambique Choir, Gettin' Higher Choir, friends, and local filmmakers brought this project and film to fruition and MM is thrilled to present the whole story and the choir's live music to promote their further fund raising efforts. This will be an awesome event! G

MM's 8th Anniversary!

The third in a trilogy of brilliant and silly "mockumentaries" (don't miss "This is Spinal Tap" and "Waiting for Guffman") This time it's a gentle sendup of the dog-showing community, folks that take their animals and the competition very seriously indeed. About the funniest and best spirited comedy of manners you're ever going to find. Christopher Guest, Eugene Levy, Catherine O'Hara Pg13

the holier it gets

A great new documentary about a Victoria family on a real life quest - to take their father's ashes to the waters of the Ganges. Daughter Jennifer Baichwal (maker of Paul Bowles - Let It Come Down) edited the footage that documents not only the perilous journey and deep impressions of a very foreign country, but also the personal story of their parents' "mixed marriage" with ramifications on both sides of their Indian/English family tree. Family members will be special guests for a Q&E at our screening. Pg

Michael Douglas plays an aging prof and one-hit novelist having a really, really bad weekend. His wife's left him, his mistress has a surprise for him, his voracious editor is in town looking for a long awaited second book and a mordant and brilliant writing student becomes a catalyst for even more mayhem. Terrific ensemble crew with Frances McDormand, Robert Downey Jr., and Toby McGuire and a new Dylan tune! PG13

MM Celebrates Gay Pride Week

This is a little miracle of a film from first time Halifax feature director/writer Thom Fitzgerald. Somewhat autobiographical, somewhat surreal, very insightful and completely original, this film speaks eloquently about acceptance and the damage we do when we are unaccepting of differences. R

Note: watch for a double feature on the same theme in our venue this Wednesday.

I've long been meaning to include this classic animatronic marvel in our program. Jim Henson and Frank Oz created this elaborate fantasy with imaginative, often grotesque characters on a Tolkien-like quest. Pg warning: A treat for kids but some creepy Skeksis along the way!
