The Station Agent

A film you'll wish would never end. When his only friend dies, a man born with dwarfism moves to rural New Jersey to live a life of solitude, only to meet a chatty hot dog vendor and a woman dealing with her own personal loss. R (officially, for some language and drug use, but a minor factor)

OUTFOXED*

A doctor must be lured to a tiny isolated village to ensure a company commit to establishing a factory there that will in turn ensure the community's survival. The cunning villagers set out to seduce the young doctor. Sounds like a typical setup but the film has won over everyone who sees it, including me. Cleaned up at Sundance and the Genies. French with subtitles G (I'd say Pg)

Ann Marie Fleming explores her famous great grandfather's life and times using an amazing technique of animating still photographs. Sam was a renowned, world-travelling vaudevillian with a company of acrobats and magicians who included the filmmaker's grandparents. <http://www.nfb.ca/longtacksam/> Filmmaker Ann Marie Fleming will join us by phone to speak about her work and famous ancestor. * OUTFOXED: Robert Murdoch's War On Journalism

July 2004 77 min <http://www.outfoxed.org>

A new, searing point-of-view doc that, like Mike Moore's tirades, entertainingly chops away effectively at the ankles of the Republicans' re-election expectations this fall. Watch this film and you'll never watch the "news" unthinkingly again. Fox's "Fair And Balanced" and "We Report and You Decide" tags look like the most Orwellian Newspeak when juxtaposed with montages of flagrant examples of journalistic bias.

STORMY WEATHER

The life of the composer of many of our most memorable standards, (Stormy Weather, Over The Rainbow, It's Only A Paper Moon, I've Got The World On A String, Come Rain Or Come Shine) was one of great success and personal sadness as his wife succumbed to mental illness. His music and life story are brought to us through a series of "Chicago"-like inventive performances by a star spangled cast including: Rufus Wainwright, Hawkshy Workman, Jimmy Scott, Sandra Bernhard and many more. "...great, gorgeous...another stunner from Rhombus Media. Like many previous Rhombus productions, Stormy Weather is...in a class of its own." Globe & Mail Never heard of it? Well, it's Canadian, directed by Larry Weinstein who's consuming interest is bringing music stories to life on screen. His current project is Beethoven's Hair. For over 25 years Rhombus Media, in which he's a partner, has brought us films like The Red Violin and Last Night and a long, elegant series of productions focussed on dance and music.

A surprisingly touching comedy. Don't look at the box! Don't think about it being made by the Farrelly Bros (except that it's very funny). Don't be put off by the fact that it's a comedy about co-joined twins who share a liver (they insist they're American, not Siamese) and that they re-locate to Hollywood so one can pursue a film acting career. I took this lovely little film as a wonderful fun way to illustrate how people can adapt to what the world deals them. These guys and all their variously-abled buddies are winners! PG-13

People Say I'm Crazy

The real-life story of an artist's struggle with schizophrenia

"a mind is a terrible thing to lose - this is the story of how i got mine back"

By Popular Request! sponsored by BC Schizophrenia Society - Victoria Branch. A film made by a young man, an artist, documenting his 10 year struggle with schizophrenia. This film shows a different side of schizophrenia from the Hollywood's presentation. Here a typical young man, seriously ill, tackles the long haul, the set backs, the small triumphs with an amazingly supportive family and therapist. An honest and moving film. That family includes a sister who is a documentary filmmaker who encouraged him to keep a video diary of his journey. see www.peoplesayimcrazy.org We'll present a Q&A update with John and Katie Cadigan video'd this May at the Frames of Mind Festival in Vancouver. 84min+ 20min PG13
