A 1977 classic Canadian film, newly reissued on DVD. Craig Russell, the great drag impersonator does fabulous routines as Ethel Merman, Liza Minelli, Streisand, Channing, Mae West and more, but the film holds together with a sweet unusual love story between him and a young woman who has schizophrenia who moves in with him after escaping a psych hospital.

Turns out it was not just a sweet plot to showcase Russell's act but based on a short story written by such a young woman who lived with him for a year!

FIRE THE BOSS.

In suburban Buenos Aires, thirty unemployed auto-parts workers walk into their idle factory, roll out sleeping mats and refuse to leave. All they want is to re-start the silent machines. But this simple act - the take - has the power to turn the globalization debate on its head. Armed only with slingshots and an abiding faith in shop-floor democracy, the workers face off against the bosses, bankers and a whole system that sees their beloved factories as nothing more than scrap metal for sale. With The Take, director Avi Lewis, one of Canada's most outspoken journalists, and writer Naomi Klein, author of the international bestseller No Logo, champion a radical economic manifesto for the 21st century.

Avi Lewis will be with us by phone for a Q&A! PG13

While heading for college, Bill and Stan are arrested in Alabama when circumstances point to them as having murdered a convenience store clerk. Unable to afford an attorney, they turn to Bill's cousin Vinny, a brash New Yorker who took six tries to pass his bar exam. Worse, until now he's only taken personal injury cases, none of which have gone to trial. Dragging along his even more abrasive fiancée Mona Lisa Vito, Vinny will have to straighten up fast, and keep out of jail himself, if he's going to win the case. R for language.

"An illuminating, beautifully wrought film" - Los Angeles Times

Ten years following its theatrical debut, this astonishing real-life mystery continues to haunt audiences around the world. Winner of the Special Jury Prize at the Sundance Film Festival and widely hailed by critics, JUPITER'S WIFE tells the story of Maggie, a beguiling homeless woman living in New York City's Central Park. In her forties, Maggie's vibrant personality and unconventional persona attract the attention of acclaimed filmmaker Michel Negroponte, who accompanies Maggie as she wanders the park with her pack of dogs and an enormous backpack. A captivating jumble of cryptic stories, Maggie's conversation is laced with intrigue and startling claims; among them, she claims to be the daughter of the Hollywood movie star Robert Ryan and married to the Roman god Jupiter. Fascinated, Negroponte and his camera follow Maggie for the next two years, as clue by clue, her enigma is deciphered and an astonishing story is revealed.

Our special guest, Bill MacPhee, has schizophrenia and is using his experience to help others. He has established a very successful magazine, Schizophrenia Digest, now in international circulation, and is a sought after speaker on the subject. Pg
