THURSDAY

APRIL 22 6:30 (by popular request)

"Stuck On You is a Farrelly Brothers comedy about a pair of conjoined twins. They use their unique deformity as a means to gain acceptance and live as normally as possible within everyday life. Everything is going great until Walt (Greg Kinnear) follows his dreams of making it as a Hollywood actor, and persuades his hesitant brother Bob (Matt Damon) to go along for the ride.

The brothers also have to deal with the complications of dating as Bob meets and falls in love with May (Wen Yann Shih), a woman he met online, who is unaware that Bob has a conjoined twin."

This could have been an appallingly tasteless situation but it plays as a very funny and surprisingly touching story that respects people with disabilities.
