

MOVIE MONDAY'S THURSDAY MOVIE on 3B

"3B Movies on the BIG screen"

A refreshingly
unpredictable,
upbeat film

starring (a remarkably untwitchy) Hugh Grant as a mid-life independently wealthy guy who is pleased to report he does "nothing, nothing really...". Life gets more involving as he attempts to exploit what he perceives as a pool of hungry single mothers looking for uncomplicated relationships. He haplessly ends up mentoring a 12 year old boy who is struggling with bullying at school and trouble at home.

I like its realistic and sensitive portrayal of a character who is depressed, the mother of the 'boy' played by Toni Colette. She's not the center of the story but, as in real life, her condition affects the lives of all around her. Based on a novel by Nick Hornby.
