Here's classic Bill Murray, and a great concept. What if you could keep trying moments in your life over till you could "get it right"? I love that idea! This film saved my life back then.

A weatherman sent to do the yearly Feb 2nd, tedious report on the groundhog shadow or not, gets stuck in the worst day of his life.

"A comic time warp you'll be happy to get stuck in"

101min PG 1993
