ANY DAY NOW

Inspired by a true story and touching on legal and social issues that are more relevant now than ever, ANY DAY NOW tells a story of love, acceptance, and creating your own family. In the late 1970s, when Marco (Isaac Leyva), a teenager with down syndrome who's been abandoned by his mother, is taken in by committed couple Rudy (Alan Cumming) and Paul (Garret Dillahunt), he finds in them the family he's never had. But it's a rocky road, as it's not cool to be an adopting gay couple. Paul's a closeted lawyer but Rudy happens to be drag bar performer with a fair bit of 'attitude'. 97min 2012 R

6:30 Monday Aug 26 /13 Special Event

STRANGERS IN TOWN is a documentary about people with albinism. It considers both the medical and social aspects of living with both visible and hidden differences and challenges the prejudices and misconceptions people hold about things they don't understand. It's a universal story of being different in this "strive to be normal world", coping with disability and finding your place. Personalities appearing in the film include extraordinary American blues guitarist Johnny Winter who, along with his younger musician bro, is one of those "strangers".

CROSSROADS

Crossroads features one of the decade's best-received motion picture soundtracks, written and performed by Ry Cooder. Eugene Martone (Ralph Macchio) is a classically trained guitarist who desperately wants to locate a long-lost blues song. At a Harlem nursing home, Eugene finds Willie Brown, a legendary blues man who may be able to help him. Eugene becomes part of the master guitarist's scheme to reclaim his soul from the Devil, which he sold in exchange for musical greatness at a rural crossroads many decades before. 99min 1986 R
