

INSIGHTS: Fall 2014

– focus on dementia

In this new series, from Movie Monday curator Bruce Saunders, films are the catalyst for learning. This season we're focusing on the emotional and practical challenges for family and caregivers of people who are experiencing dementia, Alzheimers, and issues that come with aging.

The course is meant to be both entertaining and informative. We'll have some local resource people as guests. Dialogue amongst participants is encouraged.

A certificate of attendance will be provided for applicable continuing education credit programs.

Location: the Eric Martin Theatre - south entrance 1900 Block Fort Street.
All sessions on Wednesday 7pm, approximately 2hr 15min
Car parking available in the lot between EMP and the Caribbean Apts – except for the four spaces furthest from the entrance.
(MM leeway for parking on Lee Ave not in effect for these dates).

Cost: $32.50 for the whole series - or $8 at the door for individual events.
Payment: by Paypal (link on site*)
