at MOVIE MONDAY

From childhood, Kevin Fogolin dreamed of living and working in the mountains. After breaking the shackles of small-town expectations, the dream comes crashing down in a helicopter avalanche bombing mission gone horribly wrong. In the aftermath, Kevin and his childhood friend and freeskiing icon, Mike Douglas, are forced to confront the risks and rewards of following their passion for the mountains. Set in British Columbia's rugged Coast Range mountains, SNOWMAN is a familiar tale of dreaming big and a lifestyle where the greatest risk is not daring to dream at all. 82min 2014 Pg with Mike Douglas in person!

Known as the 'Godfather of Freeskiing', Mike Douglas is most widely recognized as the creator of the Salomon Teneighty ski – the first mass produced twin tip ski, and for his achievements as a professional Freeskier. He was named 'Male Skier of the Year' at the 2003 Powder Magazine Video Awards and has been featured on more than 30 magazine covers. Now, as director of Whistler-based Switchback Entertainment, Mike has added award-winning filmmaker to his resume.

"Movie Monday is exactly what you hope for when presenting your work as a filmmaker - a passionate and thoughtful crowd that engages with your film on many levels. It's clear Bruce does it for the love of cinema. I can't wait to bring another project back to Victoria for Movie Monday."
