

a special MOVIE MONDAY event

at William Head

1pm Tuesday April 21/15 Boardroom

How do you preserve your family from 'inside'?

Here's one way that was working....

Can it be saved?

Mothering Inside

a film by Brian Lindstrom

Parenting is already a tough job, but everyday, women in Oregon are figuring out how to continue to connect with their kids while serving time.

In a new documentary, "Mothering Inside," Portland filmmaker Brian Lindstrom examines how women at the Coffee Creek Correctional Facility maintain ties with their families.

"(I wanted to) shine a light on people that we usually put an X through, and show their ability and strength," said Lindstrom in an interview with OPB's Think Out Loud*.

Since 2010, the Wilsonville prison has hosted the Family Preservation Project, which teaches inmates about parenting while allowing the women to see their children twice a month. Of the nearly 30 women who have participated in the program before their release, none has returned to prison. But now the program is closing down. 32min 2015

trailer: <https://vimeo.com/121860580>

<https://soundcloud.com/kinkfm/mothering-inside-the-family-preservation-project>

presented by filmmaker Brian Lindstrom see his TedX talk: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E1Kve6i3PAM>

this event supported by Vancouver Island Public Interest Research Group

*more details at <http://www.moviemonday.ca>