I loved this film start to finish. A great way to be reminded of the music of Queen if you weren't in the demographic at the time and to get a glimpse of the behind-the-scenes struggles of this out-of-the-box innovator in the music business in the 70's and 80's. Terrific performances and stunning cinematography. This film was beloved by audiences, panned by many critics — you be the judge. 134min 2018 Pg13

When Tony Lip, a bouncer from an Italian-American neighbourhood in the Bronx, is hired to drive Dr. Don Shirley, a world-class Black pianist, on a concert tour from Manhattan to the Deep South, they must rely on "The Green Book" to guide them to the few establishments that were then safe for African-Americans. Confronted with racism, danger - as well as unexpected humanity and humor - they are forced to set aside differences to survive and thrive on the journey of a lifetime. I felt I was in good hands with this film right from the start. Based on a real story and written by Tony Lip's son. 130min 2018 Pg13

Alan Rickman and Janeane Garofalo headline writer/director (and actor) Mike Binder's fun comedy about an American businessman who is summoned to London under the auspice of overseeing an impending business merger, only to discover that he is actually being groomed to replace his British counterpart - who unfortunately has no intentions of giving up his job. There are many switcheroos in this hilarious film, just right for April Fools Day. 91min 2001 PG13

What would you do if 6,600 people unexpectedly landed in your small town with no place to stay? For the 11,000 people of Gander, Newfoundland, this incredible event happened in the wake of the 9/11 attacks, when nearly 40 planes are rerouted and grounded there. This documentary shows how this town in Newfoundland came together to feed, shelter and support all of the stranded airline passengers for 6 days. With interviews from a selection of airline passengers and residents of the town, this emotional and inspirational documentary tells the incredible true story that inspired the smash-hit musical "Come From Away". 82min 2018 Pg
