Based on the best-selling pair of memoirs from father and son David and Nic Sheff, Beautiful Boy chronicles the heartbreaking and inspiring experience of survival, relapse, and recovery in a family coping with addiction over many years. It's my birthday, and MM's 26th, and time to premiere my opus! Chomavision is a feature documentary about an amazing Canadian artist, Bob Choma. His life has been a classic bipolar; creative, chaotic story: an accomplished artist as a child, he became a graphic artist and businessman, a cartoonist, futurist, story teller - general sparky guy. A graduate of Victoria's psychiatric hospital, Bob was challenged by classic mood swings, prison time for counterfeiting, suicide attempts, and alcohol problems throughout a colourful life, but in his later years he was well and rediscovered his creative muse as an outsider artist. Beyond revealing one man's life journey, this film provides insights into the connection between the bipolar condition and creativity - and how vital that connection is for some of us. 82min 2018 Pg With showing of some of Bob's work and Q&A with the filmmaker - me....

Here is a journey inside the world and mind of a person who, despite scepticism, ridicule and illness, created some of the world's most beloved and stunning works of art. This is not a forensic biography, but rather scenes based on Vincent van Gogh's letters, common agreement about events in his life that present as facts, hearsay, and moments that are just plain invented. Willem Dafoe is brilliant as van Gogh. An intriguing take on the painter's death is presented. 111min 2018 Pg

Canada Day

This documentary chronicles the history of Canadian graphic design and how it shaped our nation and its people. In 2012, Design Canada began with a genuine curiosity about where the designs and symbols of Canada originated from. Director (and graphic designer) Greg Durrell began shooting the film on a Canon 7D. A year later, Greg met Jessica Edwards, a Canadian filmmaker living in Brooklyn and Gary Hustwit. The team spent 5 years crafting the Design Canada story. You'll meet the people who care intensely about the images that represent us (like our flag) and the filmmakers who care too. Made with the kind of determination, and beery budget that our filmmakers are famous for, this is the perfect film for Canada Day. 74min 2018 Pg
