

at MOVIE MONDAY

6:30 Monday February 10, 2020

Mr. Julius Maslovat is a child survivor of the Holocaust and is the youngest prisoner on record in Buchenwald concentration camp.

In Why Am I Here?: a child's journey through the Holocaust he narrates his journey of self-discovery through his collection of various historical documents that are linked to his life, ranging from his birth certificate to photographs of the brave individuals who helped him to survive through his time in concentration camps.
46min 2019 Pg13

Director/Producer/Subject Julius Maslovat's statement: We wanted to undertake this project at this point in time because understanding the impact of the Holocaust on the modern world is more crucial than ever. We are entering the post-witnessing era, and the Holocaust is passing out of living memory. Thus, Mr. Maslovat considers it his duty as a Holocaust survivor to speak about his experiences in schools and universities across Canada, the USA, and Germany.

details at:

www.moviemonday.ca

at the Eric Martin Pavilion Theatre 1900 Block Fort St Free...Donations much appreciated!

with support from:

Canada Council
for the Arts

Conseil des Arts
du Canada

